Why This Test Has Been Ordered: Videonystagmography (VNG) is a test which examines the balance function of the inner ear and processing of this information as it is delivered to the brain. The results will help your provider determine the cause of your symptoms and the appropriate course of treatment. You will be asked to perform a series of tasks while wearing lightweight goggles equipped with video cameras.

What Do I Need To Know About The Test: Portions of the test may induce a sensation of dizziness/vertigo, but this effect is brief and temporary. The test is non-invasive and painless. Patients are usually able to drive home after the test without difficulty. If you are concerned about not being able to drive afterwards, please make arrangements for someone to transport you.

You will not receive the results immediately. Once your evaluation is complete, each part is carefully evaluated and analyzed. This process is as important as the test, so please understand that your test results will not be discussed with you at the conclusion of your appointment. You will be contacted by your provider to review your results.

Because this test is scheduled for 90 minutes, it is extremely disruptive when this appointment is rescheduled without sufficient notice. We reserve the right to charge a $25 cancellation/no show fee for each missed appointment. We require no later than 24 hours notice to cancel/reschedule this appointment. If you have any questions prior to testing or need to cancel/reschedule, please contact our Owings Mills office at 410-356-2626 and press option 1.
